The journal “sub:version” is an inhouse academic publication of RV College of Architecture, Bangalore. Conceptualized as an online journal (with a limited number of hard copies printed on order), the journal aspires to reach out to a worldwide audience across multiple disciplines. The in-house Editorial Team along with an external Guest Editor worked on the second issue of the sub:version from April 2024 to September 2025. The theme for the second volume of the sub:version is “Subcultures” and features original content through interdisciplinary lenses.
